SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1866. The New York World, a few days ago, stated and illustrated the fact that the radicals and their Congress have already gone to the full extent of their power in oppressing the South, and that the Southern people have consequently nothing further to fear from present or future radical malignity and vengeance. Upon that point the New York Times, a paper, which, by its extraordinary course, has amazed all parties alike, takes issue with the World. The Times thinks, that, if the Southern States persist in their rejection of the constitutional amendment, the radical party will show that it has far worse in store for them than it has yet inflicted. That paper permits itself to talk after this fashion:

| Nucle being the condition of thousands and tens of thousands at the South and such the inadequacy of Southern powers of relief, a duty devolves upon the North that should neither be underestimated nor opposition wholly wrong, and still so believes, it must nevertheless abandon that issue—for the decision of it is final. This is the Plea of the Times.

What renders the decision? It is involved in so much uncertainty that probably no two men in the country exactly agree as to which it believed itself to be wholly right and the opposition wholly wrong, and still so believes, it must nevertheless abandon that issue—for the decision of it is final. This is the Plea of the Times.

What renders the decision final? Nay, what is the decision? It is involved in so much uncertainty that probably no two men in the country exactly agree as to which it believed itself to be wholly right and the of relief, a duty devolves upon the North that should neither be underestimated nor deferred. It is not a case for Congress or the President, nor for the Governors or Legislatures of States within the Union. It is a case in which the benevolence of its North should spontaneously come for ward, to assure the starving multitudes of its readiness to co-operate with trust-worthy local organizations that may be formed for their relief. The North is able of its bounty to take care that suffering however extended, shall not culminate in families and the so already gone to the full extent of their

continue indifferent to the warning sug-gested by the elections. If it scout the drams of the amendment now tendered for its acceptance, IT MAY BE HEREAFTER CON-PELLED TO SUBMIT TO TERMS VASTLY MORE connections. The present amendment pre-supposes the continued possession of State sovereignty. But, if this be rejected, other amendments may be enforced over-riding State authority respecting the suf-frage, and investing with political power an element that will be fatal to the class now controlling Southern affairs. We have among us extremists who watch eagerly for the rejection of the present amendment as a pretext for pressing more rigorous demands. They are restrained as yet by the prevailing moderation of the The present amendment pre-Republican party, as guaranteed by the pledges upon which our victories have been achieved. Let this amendment fail, and the ultra radicals will acquire an importance just now denied them; and then, too late, the South will discover the mockery which is hidden under the World's ot always prevail. And then what may art validity to a constitutional amend-tent is the three-fourths vote of the States bready in the Union. Suppose it be eld—and the point is not without sup-orters—that the States now composing longress are the only States having a lewind voice in the case, and that three-burths of these may alter the Constitution o suit their views. What will then beto suit their views. What will then become of the doctrine that there is "nothing worse to fear," or of the other consolatory idea that Kentucky, Maryland, and Delaware are on the Southern side,

The Times aims to be prudent and cautious in its language. It seeks to alarm the South by implied threats, but is clearly inwilling to be held responsible for them. It tells us that there are radical extremists who are anxious that the constitutional amendment may continue to be rejected by the South, as they hope, that, in such se, the moderate men of their party will become so exasperated as to go with them in the enforcement of other and harsher and more ferocious measures, especially universal negro-suffrage, by the unceremonious over-riding of all State authority. And the same paper gives warning that the provision of the Constitution, requiring that no amendment of vote of three-fourths of the States, may in spite of the clear and explicit words used, be held to allow amendments to be made by three-fourths of the States admitted to representation in Congress! has the prudence and precaution to sugto frighten and alarm and startle the shall have time to take the work out of their hands. dread of something more crushing than aught which has yet been done or attempt ance of its views as to the amendment. indignant and angry radioals of a better Southern will. and higher order, will suffer no State authorities or constitutions to stand in the way of the punishment and the wild ruin be wreaked upon the Southern peo-

We can assure our Southern friends, however, that they need feel no apprehension on account of such warnings or threats or outgivings. They can safely continue to stand, as they are now standing, simply upon the defensive. Let them adopt the policy of masterly activity in relation to their business affairs, and, for the present, masterly inactivity in regard to Federal politics. The radical programme cannot possibly be executed upon them or among them. They are disposed, as they should be, to render strict obedience to the law, but, if the radical Congress should attempt to usurp the power of establishing negro suffrage in the South, or if two-thirds of the States now represented in Congress should assume to be two-thirds of all the States of the United States, and, upon that assumption, should claim, by an amendment of the Constitution, to institute Southern negro suffrage, we all know that the obnoxious and outrageous policy could never be carried out practically. Under no such atrocious circumstances would the white men of the South permit the negroes to vote. However resigned to the legitimate operation of the Constitution and the laws, they would not, without resistance, let negro suffrage be foisted upon them by palpable and downright fraud and usurpation. It would require armies in all of the Southern States to compel negro suffrage under such circumstances. But who would send the armies South for such a purpose? Would President Johnson? No! And who, if they were sent, would lead them? Would General Grant, the next in command to the President? Certainly not! Would Lieutenant-General Sherman, the third in command? Not he! The whole proceeding would collapse. It would excite but the scorn and contempt of the nation and of mankind. Borne down as the South is, let her be of good courage. There's no additional burden to be laid upon her back.

General Carl Schurz, of the Detroit December. Post, says that "the rebels in the late war were never so happy and so self-reliant as when they had yielded a city or stronghold, from whose defence they were thenceforth relieved." We have read Gen. Carl's campaigns in that war, but we don't remember a case in which the rebels made themselves happy by yielding a city or stronghold to him. The Radicals propose to compet the "ten refractory States" to ratify the cals to the country itself. constitutional amendment. How do they expect to do it? What is to be the plan of operation? What means and appliances are to be used to force States to vote as Times deems it, the South can lawfully prevent its execution, and take an appeal to the people in the next Presidential election. And this is what the South will do. The decision is no finality. Far otherwise. The notion is irrational. While the government stands, an issue of such transcendant moment cannot be finally decided wrong. No decision can be final but the right one.

We have the pleasure of an intimate acquaintance with General Steedman, and cannot do fit the South will do. The is eminently a business man, active and energetic. Formerly a Democratic leader in Ohio, and President of the Board of Public Works, in which possible great financial skill and ability, he went into the army to fight for the restoration of the Union, which he was unwilling to see disintegrated. He is strictly conservative, and but the right one. What, then, is the true course of the Democratic party, which, the Times affirms, has reached a crisis? A crisis, if we may credit the lexicographers, is the point of time when a line of action must terminate, or take a new course, or be party is to-day numerically stronger than party is to-day numerically stronger than it has ever been before, as the Times as-william Whitelest Jeep dewig serts, if the national issue upon which it has planted itself is right, as the Times admits, and if the issue is not decided finally, as it certainly is not, why must the party "nevertheless abandon that issue"? What nsurmountable obstruction stops the Democratic party in its course of devotion to the Union and the Constitution? What unconquerable power compels it to take a new course or to turn back? In what does the crisis consist? The fact is obvious. There is no crisis.

The true course of the Democratic party is straight onward. It is open. And it has no goal but the re-establishment of the Union and the Constitution. In this 'crisis," the Democratic party may well be guided by the homely maxim of a celebrated adherent, now no more. "Be sure you are right," said Davy Crockett, "and then go ahead." The Times admits that the Democratic party is right. Then let it go ahead. In no other way can it maintain "its future vitality."

The Chicago Times advises the immediate adoption of negro-suffrage on the alleged ground that "its adoption sooner or later is inevitable." We don't see why the adoption is inevitable. We can't perceive what renders it inevitable. that instrument shall be made except by a The Chicago editor, we presume, doesn't mean that Congress, in the absence of action on the part of the Southern States, will inevitably impose negro-voting upon them as one of their institutions. the sublimest thing about the late elections is that there can be no appeal from them. Ah, but there can and will be an appeal from them. The great regret is that the appeal cannot be sooner tried.

An astronomical correspondent of an Eastern paper thinks that the meteors constituting the meteoric showers are simply gas. But who shall convince us that the falling stars are only so many gas-mete rs!

When we spoke of our neighbor of the Courier's having gone so far South that his shadow in the mid-day sun was projected toward the North Pole, we of course meant the South Pole.

MR J. H. H. WOOWARD AND HIS SIGN We gave yesterday an account of the trial of the Woodward sign case, and mentioned that the eleven ordinance warrants against Mr. Woodward had been dismissed. Yesterday the habitues of Centre street were considerably amused to see an attachment to the victorious sign. consisting of a sheet-iron Shanghai perched upon a letter K, with his bill pen, as if crowing lustily. We believe that it will be found there this morning The *ttention of those interested is called to the following extract from the city ordinances, page 261, No. 290, which reads

ed or placed on a street, alley or wharf, any house, fence, wall or building, or any part thereof, or shall place on any paved street, alley or wharf, any post, rail, awn-ing or shed, shall be fined five dollars, and a like sum for each twelve hours the same

We understand that several ordinance warrants have been issued against Mr. J. H. H. Woodward under the above ordinance, and that the question will come up on next Thursday, the regular day for trying ordinance warrants

EMIGRANTS .- A party of four women and two children, in destitute circumthe Police Court building last night. They arrived on the Nashville train, and the women were in great distress about the husband of one of their number who had failed to take passage on the train which to reach here to-day, when the whole crowd will start for their destination in Illinois They are refugeeing from Georgia, and tution that still prevails in the South We hope that they, and all in a like needy condition, may be favored in their journey and soon be comfortably situated. WHAT ARE THE SIDEWALKS FOR?-The increase everywhere of obstructions upon the sidewalks by all manner of people is so marked that the question as to what the sidewalks are for forces itself upon the attention. By what right do petty dealers crowd their peanut and apple stands in the way of the multitude? what right do larger merchants blockade the way of the thousands of pedestrians by piling the sidewalks with boxes and of goods? Are they endeavoring to make the public believe that their one mous trade will not allow of their business ing done in-doors? There are ordinances regulating this matter which should be enforced. THE NICHOLSON PAVEMENT.-We respecifully suggest that the improvement of Third street, between Main and the levec, affords a most eligible opportunity for trying the merits of the Nicholso pavement-one which we believe destined to replace all other systems, as being the best, and in the long run, the cheapest The filling the street with gravel will afford an unexceptionable bed, and if the pavement is put down properly we have no fear of the future; for its cleanliness durability and exemption from noisiness. will render it indispensable.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES TO-MORROW. -It will gratify our church-going community to learn that the Rev. Dr. George B. Cummins, the newly-consecrated Assistant Bishop of Kentucky, will preach his first sermon in the Diocese at 11 o'clock to morrow (Sunday) morning, at Christ's Church. An equal pleasure will be felt at the announcement that the venerable and eloquent senior Bishop of the United States, the Right Rev. John Henry Hopkins, of Vermont, will officiate in the same church at 32 o'clock P. M. on Sunday.

HUGE KENTUCKY TURNIP,-Mr. H. Brew er, of North Fork, Kentucky, on the Lebanon Branch railroad, has sent us by ably the lorgest specimen of the cruc iferous plant ever raised in our pro-ductive soil. The weight of the monster is three pounds and twelve and ree-quarter ounces. It would make several hearty meals for a colossus. We expect to dine upon it until Thanksgiving , and then invite a dozen or so of our friends to feast upon the biggest half.

Eight o'clock was the hour appointed or the game to commence, but before that time the room was thronged with those eager and anxious to see the friendly contest. Shortly after that time the game began, and throughout was one of the most interesting and best played that we have r witnessed in this city. The average will compare favorably with those made in some of the contests for the championship. Although the fact of its being a carom table, and its size, must be taken into consideration.

Mr. Parker led from the first until the lose of the game, and finished it with some beautiful masse shots, in which he is very skillful. The inferiority of Mr. Chote's playing must be attributed to his illness for the past few days. He can play a much better game and has demonstrated the fact elsewhere. We wish him etter success next time, although he was rather over-matched in the present instance. three-quarters of an hour. A reference to the innings will best show the highest runs and other points of the game:

There will be an exhibition game to night at the "International," on the corner of Third and Jefferson, where Mr. Chote will cross cues with Mr. Bahnmiller one of the proprietors of the saloon. We anticipate a spirited tilt, and expect a fine display of the many beauties and intricacies of the manly game will be made.

CAPTURE OF TWO MORE OF THE RAIL ROAD ROBBERS.-The wide-awake detect ives sent out to trap the railroad desperadoes have nearly completed their work But one of the rascally highwaymen is now at large. Two more of the number John Colbert and the negro, Robin Hoy, were captured in the vicinity of Franklin and brought to this city yesterday. They were received at the depot with military honors and escorted to Taylor Barracks where they will remain in duress with their prother knights until they are brought to rial. The names of all the men now in custody are: Wm. P. King, John Colbert, Robin Hoy (negro), Wesley Finn, Wm. Finn, Chas. Smith, Buck Wainscot, Abner Owens, Abraham Owens, Joe Payne and Steinwell Cornwell. The name of the accomplice yet to be apprehended is John Evans. King, said to have been the commander of the party, is confined in the city jail, and the others vegetate in the military prison. It is not known when the criminals will be tried Overloading .- The pavements of our ity have suffered so much from the pracice of driving heavily-loaded wagons over them that the Chief of Police has issued nstructions to his force to take the number of every dray, cart or wagon found to be overloaded, issue ordinance warrants, and have the parties fined. For the bene fit of those interested we take the weights permitted to be carried by the ordinance: For one dray load 2,500 pounds, for one two-horse wagon load 4,000, for one fourthe owners or drivers to the fines imposed for a violation of this ordinance.

NEGRO THIEF CAUGHT.-The Chief of Police yesterday received information of the arrest, by the Marshal of Bardstown, brought them hither. The man is expected of Harrison Hutchins, the negro who stole a carpet-sack, gold watch, and other articles from the residence of Mr. John Baird, on Broadway, near First street, last Suaday night week. All of the missing property was repossessed. Captain Kaye will send an officer after the culprit this morning. He is likely to figure in the Criminal Court next week, and nextly in the penitentiary for a short spell.

FORGERY AND COUNTERFEITING .- Office Carter Tiller yesterday arrested M. N. Scott upon the charge of forging and receiving money upon checks purporting to have been drawn by a well known business firm in the city, and also of having passed a counterfeit $20 bill upon a shoenaker named Hall, on Jefferson street, between Sixth and Seventh. The unknown. scrupulous young man was committed to jail to await a hearing before the Police Judge this morning.

The Courier of yesterday has an account of the robbery and assassination of Mr. Geo. N. Bullitt, in Arkansas, by three highwaymen. He was the son of our old and respected fellow-citizen Wm N. Bullitt, now of Lawrenceburg, and is spoken of by all as one of the very best and most promising of young men. Very deeply will the whole community condole with his afflicted relatives and friends.

SNEAK THIEF .- On Thursday evening ome sneak-thief entered the boardinghouse of Mr. Harris, on Jefferson street, near Fifth, and stole from a valise in the sitting-room a package of papers, valuable only to their owner, Mr. S. D. Hay, of Texas, and a few articles of wearing apparel. Mr. Hay offers a liberal reward the recovery of the papers, as will be seen by an advertisement in the Journal.

PREMATURE BIRTH.-Coroner Moore was called upon yesterday to hold an inquest upon the body of an infant to which its nother had given birth prematurely. The result of the inquest was as follows: PERSONAL OF THE HAQUEST WAS AS IOUTOMATE

Neff's brother-in-law, a boy of thirteen, feared for the life of those in the house, as Neff was crazed with liquor and excitement. The boy picked up a shot-gun standing in the room, and fired at Neff, the shot taking effect in his shoulder, inflicting a terrible wound. This sobered the madman, and he staggered to a bed in the room where he laid down. A physician was sent for and a messenger also to Officer Gore, who lives in the vicinity. When the officer got there the boy was not to be found. Neff was not regarded as mortally wounded, and his wife was not seriously injured. No arrests had been made up to a late hour last night. SEVERE ACCIDENT .- Yesterday morning, pefore school had commenced at the new chool-house on Seventeenth street, beween Main and Rowan, some of the boys were playing ball in the yard. The ball was knocked into the street, and a small boy, ten years old, named Henry Allen. while running after it, was knocked down by the lead horse of a cart driven furiusly, the cart passing over his leg and highs. more perfect his instruments, the more profitable are they. Liberality in good barns and warm shelter is the source of, good health strength, and comfort to animals; causes them to thrive on less food; and secures from damage all sorts of crops.

ACCIDENT AT THE RIVER.-Yesterday vening a negro drove his team and dray into the river, near the foot of Fifth street, o water his team. They got in beyond heir depths and struggled with the cur rent, which carried them down by the side of an oil barge. There they were caught and the lead herse cut loose, which swam out, but the mule, a fine animal valued at $300, was drowned. The driver's name was Quinn and the team was his own. On Tuesday night, November 13th, another company counted eight hundred and eighty-one shooting stars in five hours, which is five times the average number on Wednesday night. The sky was over-cast, so that no observations could be made. We conclude then that the number of shooting-stars visible about the 13th was very remarkable nevertheless. This display is not to be compared with that of November 13, 1833, in which the number of meteors was variously estimated at from ten thousand to thirty thousand per hour. this city. From Mr. Clark Warren, of this city, who was on the train, we learn the following particulars:

The accident happened near Wesley-ville, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The train consisted of five coaches filled with passengers, and five baggage and express cars, and was a little behind time, to make up which it was running at the rate of forty miles an hour, on a down grade. At the point of the accident workmen were engaged in repairing the track, and had taken out two rails. They must have known, or if they did not they should have known, that the train wasdue at that time; but no signal was sent to warn the approaching train of the danger until it was heard coming thundering around a curve, only a few rods from where the rails had been removed, when a man rushed up the track, swinging his hat. The engineer reversed his engine, the brakes were put hard on, and everything done to check the headlong speed of the train. But it was too late. The train reached the fatal spot, and plunged into the tran laid for it by the reached. reached the fatal spot, and plunged into the trap laid for it by the gross and crim-inal neglect of the workmen. The train was thrown down an embankment some ten or lifteen feet, breaking some of the cars into fragments, and piling them up were the most injured, out the whole train was more or less damaged. Mr. Warren describes the scene at this time as terrible. The passengers were jammed in the debris of the broken cars, and the cries of the wounded who were fastened in by crushed and broken cars were awful to hear. In the second car, in which Mr. Warren was seated, there were four killed outright, and nearly all in the car more or less injured. Besides Mr. Warren, there were two others from this city injured—Mrs. Mahala Porter, considerably bruised, and Mr. Lewis, injured in the shoulder. Mr. Warren's injuries are in the right knee and left shoulder, but are not serious.

The indignation of the passengers against the negligent workmen who had caused the fearful accident was intense, and if they had been caught the conaequences would have been serious. A number of the wounded came up last night, and more arrived by the trains towounded who were fastened in by crushed

Ticks—Easton, 23c; do B, 21c.

Two of the men were brothers, and were captured at the house of their father, who drew a revolver and swore that his sons should not be taken. On being informed that he himself would be arrested if he did not put away his weapon, he cooled down and quietly witnessed the departure of his unfortunate offspring.

In the possession of one of the six was found a valise, which is supposed to be the property of Captain S. B. Brown, of Nashville, who was robbed of a large amount in Government vouchers on the morning of the 8th.

The man who was arrested on Tuesday night wanted to know why he was taken into custody, and asked an officer why Harper was not arrested. The officer told him that he "could not lay it on Harper any longer:" that the authors of the late outrages were too well known. The pris-

The prisoners are said to be nearly all residents of Simpson and Allen counties, Kentucky, and to have lived in the vicinity of Drake's Creek and its branches. There is hardly a doubt of their identity, as they have nearly all been recognized by parties who were on the ill-fated train at the time of the great robbery.

There is probably no truth in the report that one of them was mobbed and hung on Tuesday night by the citizens o Franklin.

One of the prisoners is a German named Charles Smith, who is well known in Bowling Green, having worked five years in that place as a carriage trimmer, revious to the war. Much surprise was evinced by those who knew him, when they learned of his arrest.

The train thrown off on the 8th was that of which Captain Tuttle was conductor, but as he had got off at Bowling Green to go hunting with a friend, he did not participate in the scenes of that eventful merning. It was his train, also, from which the four prisoners captured in the woods were seen.

Railroad men, who have had excellent opportunities of observing, firmly believe that Harper has had nothing whatever to do with the late outrages; and it is a great source of relief to them, as well as to the travelling public, that the real perpetrators are to be brought to justice.

A Card from Dr. Stuart Robin-Son. Louisville, Nov. 12, 1866.

Con .- My attention has been Ens. Com.—My attention has been called to the article of your correspondent in the Commercial of Saturday last, reproducing the miserable lie of the perjurded wretches before the "Bureau of Military Justice," which the Washington correspondent of the Commercial, eighteen months age, was first to drag out of their concealment as "the suppressed testimony," and thereby expose them to the seon and indignation of intelligent mankind.

nd., After the letter of Rev. Stuart Robinson, June, 1865, to Mr. Emmons, of Detroit dix of more testimony, putting beyond question the perjured character of the testimony of Conover, Merrit and Montgomery; and especially after the recent feeble defence of Judge Advocate Holt, and his lame apology for having ever believed. supposed that all mankind, outside the lass of the Cincinnati Gazette, would lush at any reference to the perjuries of toose villains as a stain upon the civilization of our age and country, rather than e disposed to rehash them as a means of destroying the influence of an argument which they could not answer. I have not referred your correspondent, as I might, to Mr. Rogers minority report in Congress, making a like exposure of these perjuries, simply because he might regard that as a partisan political document.

As, however, your correspondent, "Anxous Inquirer," seems not even yet to have een enlightened on the subject of "supressed testimony," but cites it as Gospel, llow me to refer him, and all in like con-allow me to refer him, and all in like condition, to the forementioned documents for the following indubitable facts;

1. That not only the Rev. Stuart Robinson had not and could not have had any knowledge of any such plots and conspiracies in Canada, but that the Jew-Atheist Hyams, himself a low perjurer by trade, like his ancester Judas, voluntarily confessed, under the certificate of the American Consul Thurston, at Toronto, that his yellow fever story, so far as it insinuated any knowledge of Dr. Blackburn and his scheme by Rev. Stuart Robinson, was utterly false.

2. That not only was the Rev. Stuart
